PREFACE

25th Year of Issue

I HAVE pleasure in submitting WHO'S WHO IN CANADA for 1936-37. Its pages comprise a record of the men and women of the time and it is authoritative on up-to-date, accurate biography. The illustrations used are the latest and best available and make for a more useful and interesting work of reference. This edition has been thoroughly revised and is more comprehensive than the previous one. The major portion of it is necessarily given over to personalities in the Dominion of Canada and Newfoundland but it will be noticed that personalities in the British West Indies are included.

I have given the same consideration relatively to personalities in the smallest outlying towns in this vast territory as to those in the larger or more central cities. It has been my aim to make the sketches as compact as possible, to given actual biographical facts, without eulogies, oft-times merited, but which have no place in a work of this nature. If I have omitted any name of importance, the fault is more likely with the person concerned, who, for one reason or another, may be reluctant to supply the requisite information. I have taken the greatest care to secure accuracy by consulting all available authorities for information, as well as correcting and revising all copy before publishing. In dealing with so great a number of names and dates, the utmost care will not prevent an occasional error. I should be very grateful for any necessary correction, addition or omission, which will have my careful attention in later issues.

I am indebted to Editors of the Newspapers, Principals and Librarians of the Universities and Librarians of the Public Libraries, who have assisted me from year to year to enhance the scope of this work. I take this opportunity to thank them most heartily.

I trust this edition will open up to the satisfaction of all those who are interested in WHO'S WHO reference.

B. M. GREENE,
Editor.

Toronto, 1937.

Born Montreal, Que., July 6, 1882, son of the late John and Jane (Bryant) Magor. Educated: Montreal High School. Commenced with Salada Tea Co., 1897; with the Canadian Car and Foundry Co., 1906-10. Went to New York, 1910, to take position of Assistant Manager of the present Company; became President of the American Company, 1915; returned to Canada, 1920; with his associates purchased control of the National Steel Car. Assisted in the administration of Dominion Iron & Steel, from January, 1927, to July, 1930, giving particular attention to the development of the ore deposits in Newfoundland. This included going abroad, particularly to Germany, for purpose of marketing ore. 1931-32, at the request of the Newfoundland Government, identified with the re-organization of the Commercial activities of the Government Railways, drydocks, steamship services and the co-relation of same with telegraphs, telephones, and postal services. Relief controller of the Island which included charities, unemployment relief, which were co-related with hospitals and the Health Department. Was later requested to assist in the securing of funds for the meeting of the interest on the National Debt of Newfoundland, December, 1931 and June, 1932. The latter date interest he secured by disposing of the Petroleum Monopoly for the Island to the Imperial Oil Co. The essence of the deal was that they should subscribe to the extent of One Million Seven Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars of an issue of Two and Half Million, which was necessary to meet interest on National Debt. This procedure was necessary in order to carry on finances of the country until the form of future government was determined, which has since resulted in the appointment of Commission Government under the control of the British Government. This procedure of government was strongly recommended by Mr. Magor. In Mr. Magor's agreement with the Imperial Oil Company it was provided that Newfoundland had the privilege of cancelling this monopoly at any time upon retirement of the petroleum issue at par and accrued interest to date of retirement. This special provision was taken advantage of when a Commission Government was decided upon and resulted in a substantial premium over par being saved as the gilt edge security with a 5½% coupon would have been selling on the market on a very high premium basis. Due to Mr. Magor's broad and diversified experience he was invited by the Government of the Province of Alberta in October 1935 to go to Edmonton in the capacity of Special Adviser on their economic, budgetary, taxation and relief problems. This work he completed in the spring of 1936. Has had wide experience in re-organization of industrial plants, securing economies and improvements in plant organization, production, cost accounting and other activities. His scope of experience includes plants from coast to coast in Canada, also important industries in the United States. JOHN EDWARD HAMMELL

HAMMELL, John Edward — President, Val D'Or Mineral Holdings Limited, Pickle Crow Gold Mines Limited, Greene Stabell Mines Limited, Siscoe Extension Gold Limited, Harker Gold Mines Limited; Director, Howey Gold Mines Limited, and Ontario College of Art. Office, 930 Canadian Bank of Commerce Bldg., 25 King St. W., Toronto, Ont. Born Beeton, Ont., December 6, 1876, son of the late James and Johanna (Ferguson) Hammell of Beeton, Ontario. Has been pioneering in the North country for the last thirty years. Mr. Hammell was responsible for the creation of the Porcupine Crown Mines and also the Flin Flon, now Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting Company; was one of the first pioneers of Rouyn, Que., and installed the first two diamond drills in that field; found the first silver outside of the Cobalt camp in the Montreal River district. Responsible for Howey Gold Mines Ltd., which, although 150 miles in the bush, operates at the lowest production costs in Canada. In 1928, Mr. Hammell formed Northern Aerial Minerals Exploration Limited (N.A.M.E.) and in so doing was the first man to use aeroplanes in prospecting for minerals. N.A.M.E., under Mr. Hammell, had one hundred prospectors in the field, a staff of pilots and mechanics, a dozen aeroplanes and thirty-four bases spread across the country from coast to coast. In five years, 1928 to 1933, the N.A.M.E. pilots flew two million miles, thus demonstrating the feasibility of the aeroplane for commercial use. In this 5-year period N.A.M.E. found themselves with many properties on their hands in need of development and for this reason the company was disbanded in 1933 and a holding company formed to take over the assets. This holding company, Val D'Or Mineral Holdings Limited, is under the direct supervision of Mr. Hammell and at the present time is busily engaged in developing several properties. The most important find made by N.A.M.E. was the property in the Pickle Crow district, Northwestern Ontario, on which a company was formed known as Pickle Crow Gold Mines Limited. Mr. Hammell was responsible for bringing into production Pickle Crow Gold Mines Limited, in the face of adverse criticism from the leading mining authorities of the world. He not only brought into production one of the highest grade gold mines in Canada but set a world's record by paying the initial dividend to shareholders within eleven months of going into production. Was engaged in district war activities, such as movement of foodstuffs, munitions and production for war purposes, both in Canada and the United States. The Right Honorable The Earl of Crawford, Director of Wheat and Flour Supplies for the Allies, in a letter to Sir Robert Borden, thanking the Dominion for her co-operation, said: "Mr. James Stewart has explained to us how difficult the situation would have been without the hearty co-operation of Sir Henry Drayton, the Chief Railroad Commissioner, whose assistance surmounted difficulties which threatened to become insurmountable." The American Secretary of War, speaking to the Canadian Club, Ottawa, January 11, 1919 (Sir Henry Drayton acting as Chairman), said: "I do not feel a stranger in Canada. I have had, during the past, war business relations with the distinguished chairman of this meeting, in which it was perfectly obvious to me that his desire was to advance the common cause, and that the arrangements that he was proposing between the United States and Canada were made in disinterested friendship and in a desire to bring to bear, as far as could he brought to bear, the concerted strength and energy of the two countries for the common benefit. And I should fail in a very pleasant part of my task here to-day if I did not acknowledge in his presence the fact that, in that instance and subsequent business matters which he and I had — indeed, in all business relations, and there were many, between the War Department of the United States and the people and Government of Canada during the war — there was a delightful reciprocity of neighborly feeling and a mutuality of helpfulness, which I think will always be remembered by the Government in Washington as an exhibition on your part of the most gracious and courteous assistance and co-operation."
